She was a poet to me
She understood my heart
She brought my world together
I tore it all apart
Oh sometimes I miss her
I miss the things we were

In my life
Everything is changing
Down the road
Just want to be
Still sometimes I can see her in everything
And I wonder
Does she think about me

Does she keep our picture
Somewhere that she can see
And does it bring forgiveness
The way it does for me
The hardest part is learning
To let go of what's gone

In my life
Everything is changing
Down the road

Just want to be
Still sometimes I can see her in everything
And I wonder
Does she think about me

And does she think of me with sorrow
Does she think of me with love

The greatest gift in living
Is when love comes your way
It lives in you forever
And strengthens all your days
Oh sometimes I miss her
I miss the things we were

In my life

Everything is changing
Down the road
I just want to be
Still sometimes I can see her in everything
And I wonder
Does she think about me
