"Away Again"

I don't deny, what I used to be. And I don't care what You say about me. Cuz I am just trying to find, some Piece of mind. I don't try to hide, what I mean to be,
I'll let yo know, just as soon as they tell me.

So many days, all left alone, I'd have taken my time if

I'd only known:

It wouldn't matter anyway. All things must come and go.
You and I are not exempt, our time will come.

So I try to forget, all the things I should have done. If I had just one more day, I'd probably throw it all away.
