

Daphne Willis

"Caroline"

Visit "Caroline" on MotoLyrics.com

Too much wine and too much song.
I'd prove myself but I'm always wrong.
Forgive me for all my mistakes.
For, times a hand I will not shake,
Times a hand I will not shake.

Up the coast and down the line,
Her memory fades as the engine winds.
I swear I don't remember when,
But, I love her now like I loved her then,
I love her now like I loved her then.

I want to take back all my wishes thrown
Crack my dreams against the stone.
The day brings night, and the night brings tears.
This motel room is dark and weird.
I try to fight, but I lose my mind.
Caroline.

She said she loved me across the phone.
I'll prove my heart when I get back home.
Can't stand to leave her by herself.
She might trade my love for someone else.
Trade my love for someone else.

I want to take back all my wishes thrown.
Crack my dreams against the stone.
The day brings night, and the night brings tears.
This motel room is dark and weird.
I try to fight, but I lose my mind.
I try to fight, but I lose my mind.
I try to fight, but I lose my mind.
Caroline.
Caroline.
Caroline.

Visit Daphne Willis page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.