That's not what your body said
"I'm a dried out orchid stem"
that's not what your body said
over and over and over again.

That's not what your body said
and you know its dialect
that's not what your body said
over and over and over again.

I'll be your boring horror
I'll be your glorious mirror
I don't know how you look away.

I'll be your boring horror
your glowing black chimera
I'll hold this scaffold right in place.

That's not what your body said
"I'm a castle carved in flesh"
that's not what your body said
over and over and over again.

That's not what your body said
and you know its architect
that's not what your body said
over and over and over again.
