Open up and reveal what's goin' on in the backroom
I see you I never knew what it was you were goin' through
But I can relate I used to wear the same shoes

So quit livin' like a hypocrite
And be real like an opposite of counterfeit
And you'll feel what it is you're really up against Stop foolin' yourself not foolin' anyone else, I hope you're getting this

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
To see these people slippin' out through the back door

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
To see these people slippin' out through the back door

So what's the point of even trying to hide
'Cause everything you do is seen by Omnipotent eyes
So come outside and leave behind
Don't be satisfied with the backslide we on the flipside

Sometimes it's so easy to cheat
But the only one's you're cheatin' are just you and the Chief
It ain't just a belief He'll be back like a thief
You better breathe get your things and leave I know you will eventually

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
To see these people slippin' out through the back door

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
To see these people slippin' out through the back door

When you gonna come out to play, when you gonna come out to stay
When you gonna come out to say that you'll never turn
the other way
When you gonna come out to play, when you gonna
come out to stay
When you gonna come out to say that you'll never turn
the other way

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
To see these people slippin' out through the back door

You're not the same man you were before
Tell me what are you like behind closed doors
I can't take this anymore
