Now can't you see that there is something
That's burning up inside
And I don't know what it means
But there's something I ain't tried

It feels like me against the nations
There's something I can't hide
And I don't care if you believe me
'Cause it's burning me alive, I'll show you

Nothing comes that easy
And nothing comes for free
Something comes from nothing
If you're willing to believe

'Cause everything has meaning
Everything we see
Are you willing to give up everything?

'Cause you don't need a revelation
To open up your mind
Break down all your reasons
And leave them all behind

'Cause it's takes faith for moving mountains
Strength to walk the line
Your apologies' accepted
There's nothing you can hide, believe me
Nothing comes that easy
And nothing comes for free
Something comes from nothing
If you're willing to believe

'Cause everything has meaning
Everything we see
Are you willing to give up everything?

Nothing comes that easy
Nothing comes for free
Something comes from nothing
If you're willing to believe

'Cause everything has meaning
Everything we see
Are you willing to give up everything?

Everything, everything
Something comes from nothing
If you're willing to believe

'Cause everything has meaning
Everything we see
Are you willing to give up
Give up everything?

Time will tell, time will tell
Time will tell everything
Time will tell, time will tell, time will tell
