"Light At My Feet"

As I aimlessly wander around
How could I ever expect to be found
'Til looking down and seeing the light
At the ground by my feet

I heard Angels resound, there I a-vowed
This is the road I would take
Just to make it there for my sake
Now I say that I'll never break

I can get there by the light at my feet
And you made me walk in electricity
I can get there by the light at my feet
You are my everything all that I need

And now that I see it's so easy for me
To proceed onto my destiny
And let it be seen the light that you've given thee
Let it be efficiently electricity

I can get there by the light at my feet
And you made me walk in electricity
I can get there by the light at my feet
You are my everything, all that I need

You can take me there
You can take me there
You can take me there
You can take me there

I can get there by the light at my feet
And you made me walk in electricity
I can get there by the light at my feet
You are my everything, all that I need

I can get there by the light at my feet
All the darkness
I can get there by the light at my feet
You are my everything, all that I need
