Baby i was blinded by your love, but no more
I was patient and trusted you're the one that i adore
Some say love comes easily and one's in a life time (no)
But please tell them wrong, please, tell them wrong

You danced with me through all this years wishing you
Were dancing with another man
I'm blaming myself for not seeing the thruth
Why can't you see i'm perfect for you

But even when the love feels right
It's not sure the stars align
Oh baby when the day becomes night
It's not sure the stars are in sight

You stranded my heart, struck me with pain, confused memory lane
I build up a dream, you crushed it in one scene, i made you, you made me believe But now i'm fucking sick and tired, ditched and wired, been fooled by a liar

You danced with me through all this years wishing you
Were dancing with another man
I'm blaming myself for not seeing the truth
Why can't you see i'm perfect for you

But baby when the love feels right
It's not sure the stars align
Oh baby when the day becomes night
It's not sure the stars

The stars align....

Oh baby when the love feels right, im not sure, no, im not sure
I keep staring me blind through this gate, im not sure

Oh baby when the love feels right
It's not sure the stars align
Oh baby when the day becomes night

It's not sure the stars

The stars align...
