Oh brother, now we're going undercover 'Cause she's more than just a lover to me Can't you see that there's a reason for this heresy and treason?
It's the season for instability

Good lovin', two and one more in the oven
This is way above a discovery Supersede your jurisdiction, let's pretend that this is fiction
Make a story out of all that we see

So can we agree enough is enough?
Madeline sees the magazines for the trees so she tells me that Everything needs some time in the sun
Everyone breathes their oxygen quietly, carefully carrying along

Hey neighbor, can I ask you for a favor?
See I'm sketching up the neighborhood's dreams
'Cause I need to hit the walls of coffee bars and shopping malls
And show the world a side that they've never seen

So what do you think about teaming up?
Gravity sleeps when we see that all we are is not all we will be 'Cause everything needs some time in the sun
Everyone breathes their oxygen quietly, carefully
carrying along

So can we agree enough is enough?
Madeline sees the magazines for the trees so she tells
me that Everything needs some time in the sun
Everyone breathes their oxygen quietly, carefully
carrying along

Can we agree enough is enough?
Madeline sees the magazines for the trees
So she tells me that everything needs some time in the sun

Everyone breathes their oxygen quietly, carefully
carrying along

So can we agree enough is enough?

Can we agree enough is enough?

Can we agree enough is enough?

Can we agree enough is enough?
