I want you to stay
Far away, you sway
You'll stay, if it's not too late
You stay

For a minute I was wondering if you'd come
For a minute I was wondering if you'll come around
I've got a favor to ask but you've already done so much

You climb the stairs, unsatisfied
To your wins, and to your lie
There's never been so much to fake
There's never been so much to fake

For a minute I was wondering if you'd come
For a minute I was wondering if you'll come around
I've got a favor to ask but you've already done so much.
