I've been trying to tell you what's been on my mind
Now I think that you and I have had our time
Now I'm back to wearing my heart on my sleeve
And I don't really think that you believe in me
Can't you see that

I don't and she don't quite know
Oh how to show our love
I don't and she don't quite know
About this thing called love

It's just a
Battleplan
It's just a
Battleplan

Won't you let me in, I've got nothing to say
And I know I've messed you 'round with these stupid games I play
I think that I have stayed too long, I think that I should go
And now I've gone and kissed you and it's all apropos
Don't you know

I don't and she don't quite know
Oh how to show our love
I don't and she don't quite know
About this thing called love

I've been trying to tell you what's been on my mind
Now I think that you and I have had our time
Now I'm back to wearing my heart on my sleeve
And I don't really think that you believe in

It's just a
Battleplan
It's just a
Battleplan
