Did you swim through unholy waters to the banks of a destined hell
But you lived your life for you and nobody else Would you change it if you could put your faith in something good Exchange a halo for your will now your soul is fucking dead

Damned of tomorrow

Did you pray in your holy structure for a God that sits above
But you stood there in his rapture and felt no love Stop your hopeless affirmations Finally give to your temptations Detach yourself and cross your bounds watch the merciful strike you down [Chorus]

I don't see any other life for me I'm gonna revel in my blasphemy and always be The damned of tomorrow
