Left out in the cold.
Broken and we're all alone.
So now take my hand,
And we'll navigate this foreign land.

I love you and you love me, in fact, you take my breath
away.
So you be you and I'll be me, if that is what we need to be.

If nobody wants you. If nobody needs you.
Please know that I want you. Please know that I need you.

Oh, rejection stings.
I understand these things.
So let's take our hearts,
And tape them up before we fall apart.

I love you and you love me, in fact, you take my breath
away.
be.

If nobody wants you. If nobody needs you.
Please know that I want you. Please know that I need
you.

I know you feel like a train that has square wheels,
And I'm a boat that doesn't float, but the boat will say,
"hello."
Misfits we may be. Together you and me,
Will re-write history. Together wait and see.

If nobody wants you. If nobody needs you.
Please know that I want you. Please know that I need
you.
