Throwing your heart out to the sea
Holding it up in front of me
Tell me does it beat evenly
Or does it speak dishonesty

I grew as I played then I cried

Scraping your mind sap subtly
Carving it up for all to see
Tell me does it beat evenly
Or does speak mischievously

I grew as I played then I cried

This Dull Option
My skeleton
His infection
It diseases me

You only play for vanity
Your lyrical profanity
You are the anti-histamine
Of the talented music scene
