All have walls to be torn apart
Cold hard places rising up in the heart
Standing in between what's holy and what's not
We walk around deserts alone
Chipping in vain at towering stones
'Til we find they're impossible to break without God

To be like Joshua
Who trusted the Holy One
A willing instrument
Who let God get the job done

CHORUS

It takes a Jericho faith
Blind belief
Following the voice when you cannot see
Walking God's way
Hearing His sound
Jericho faith
Makes the walls come down

All have things to conquer down here
But faith makes ruins out of pride and fear
With the Father's hands we can level barriers
He's crumbling before our eyes
Smashing to pieces every wall inside
We're living and learning to be stronger than we were

No matter how great the size
Of the stumbling block
We gotta know that God
Can make rubble out of rock
