The music has ended
But the song has just begun
Has the love been befriended
By everything undone

The word was just spoken
And we watch our hearts collide
Supurb explosion
From what's left on the inside

Send me a message
Throw the lights out super strong
Change the channel, close the door
A message from heaven
Make the chair rise, will we see
Just let us know what heaven means

Gonna gather up my character
Gonna gather up my rhymes
Gonna jump into a crashing plane
And make sure it lands fine

We'll hold majesty on broken lips
We'll turn happiness from fear
There are lessons learned from living good
It's all in our last tear

Send me a message
Throw the lights out super strong
Change the channel, close the door
A message from heaven
Make the chair rise, will we see
Just let us know what heaven means

I would take on someone's tragedy
I would walk the extra mile
Throw caution to a hurricane
To just share your last smile

If you walk into my life again
I would blindly take the test

I would siphon every minute
To just feel your last breath

Send me a message
Throw the lights out super strong
Change the channel, close the door
A message from heaven
Make the chair rise, will we see
Just let us know what heaven means...
