Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?
Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?
Where should we start?

I see that gun in your hand, shoot me down if you can.
I think I ready to go
Feel that tension in the air
Feel me good and feel me fair.
I think I'm ready let go

Down here, inside my head, I'm gonna shoot down that girl
You pretend to be so nice when I'm losing my world
Oh my world, oh my world.
Yeah, gonna lose my world.
World, oh my world, oh my world
Yeah gonna lose my

Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?
Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?

Everyday I see the sign, everyday she works my mind
I think I'm ready to go
Hear my voice I've got to say
Things are really gonna change, as soon as I get home

She wants to feel feelings without thought
She wants to get good without god
She's lookin for the ocean, she only wants emotion.
Pass me on that prize
I could never live in compromise
I'm lookin for that feelin, oh I want that feelin oh oh oh

Down here, inside my head, I'm gonna shoot down that girl
You pretend to be so nice when I'm losing my world
Oh my world, oh my world.
Yeah, gonna lose my world.
World, oh my world, oh my world
Yeah gonna lose my

Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?
Happy times without your memories
I'm fading in the dark
Where should we start?
Where should we start?
