

Dear Tragedy "I Will Never Forget"

Things have been too easy for you, getting by without any struggles
If you only knew what you've been caused me, I think you'd start to have some trouble You put me through hell and back and some would consider you had heartless I gave you all I had and more, so it's time I start to cause you some stress Right now I'll take a look around; it's been so long since you've been down
You tore me to pieces in the blink of an eye, now I'm here to take back what's mine.

So here I am, I'm right in front of you Take a step back; I've got a point to prove There's no sense to toy with me anymore
You had your chance, you chose to ignore it

I never did one thing wrong, but still you pass me the blame
It was never your fault not once; you know two can play this game
My deck is stacked and on the table
I promise that you'll get what you deserve

Everything that you've said
I will never forget!
