Anything to hold back these hands,
Anything at all, to bear the weight of time
What I thought was based on the evidence,
all eroded at first light
What I thought was based on the evidence, Erasing all I have Would you take me in my sleep?

Better days we'll find if we dream, deeper sleep we'll need, to bear the weight of time
What I thought was based on the evidence,
all eroded at first light
What I thought was based on the evidence, erasing allâ€¦

I can't stand these dreams, disturbing the sunlight Realize all I had, is melting away as the morning cracks my eyes

I'll sleep while I can Dreaming away as the world moves around
A carousel returning the night again
A carousel returning the night again

What I thought was based on the evidence, all eroded at first light
What I thought was based on the evidence, erasing allâ€¦
I can't stand these dreams, disturbing the sunlight
Realize all I had, is melting away in my head
