Another perfect day and I won't be around to fear it
A simple plan of decay, do you feel it, it's all around?
Another perfect day and I won't be around to fear it
A simple plan of decay
Crimson spirits, spill from your puckered lips

But I won't turn away, a simple emptiness to feed it, a simple plan of decay
Do you feel it? It's all around
Doomed to trace your footsteps with these words
Your actions speak without words, there are no words
Another fear-soaked night waits quietly for your bite

But I won't turn away; I'll sit and gaze upon it
And how did we start, how did we start a war?

Another perfect day, until the walls came crashing all around-
As simple plan of decay, do you feel it? It's all around
Doomed to trace your footsteps with these words.
Your actions speak without words
Another fear-soaked night waits quietly for your bite

But I won't turn away; I'll sit and gaze upon it
And how did we, how did we start a war?
(No rest!!) (Ã—4)
