Walking backwards wind is flying water is running slowly dying voices strained and faces shattered over what will never matter

In this ocean I am broken In a day which is not spoken peace retreating, I am silent strong and falling, I am violent

And so throw this to the shadows and pretend that we're not made, oh

Try to believe what you can't see you're not here, I'm crazy I'm crying you're falling I'm dying and I will NOT wait
'til you think you are ready...
