Our time has fin'ly come
Now we can be as one
I touch you and it feels as though
Our lives have just begun

To love, to live again
With you to share a dream and then
We'll go to where we've never been
And we'll find our way to love

To laugh, to cry again
At last to come alive again
The world just does not have the right
To deny...
Our right to love

The beauty I can see
That lives in you and me
Will light the way before us
Endlessly now we are free

To love, to live again
With you to share a dream and then
We'll go to where we've never been
And we'll find our way to love

To laugh, to cry again
At last to come alive again
The world just does not have the right
To deny...
Our right to love

And we'll find...
Our way to-oo love...
