Yea I'm getting older now what can I say
Everyone you know starts to go away
But you know that track that puts you back into that place
With a smile or a tear running down your face
And you get that taste, and you want it back
But you know you can't get it cuz its in the past
And it happened so fast, and you don't know where it went
Did you give it your all, one hundred percent?
Let this song be the song you won't forget
Let it represent all that hasn't happened yet
Let this song be the song of your youth
If you feel it in your heart then you know that it's the truth

Prehook

The more I fight the more I pull it back inside of me
The more I am the more I fucking need to try to be

Chorus

Open up your eyes
Now tell me what you see
Nothing more to hide
Now tell me what you see
Everything I was
Now tell me what you see
Is nothing more because
It's who I used to be
I'll tell you what you'll see
I'll tell you what you'll see
What can I do I tried everything
I never lied and I never hide anything
What I felt I pushed to the side
And it came back around cuz the feelings don't die
Inside it rest in line
Till it's too much to hold and it freezes time
Look around nothings the same, nothings ok
Nothing ever heals the pain
The more I fight the more I pull it back inside of me
The more I am the more I fucking need to try to be
Open up your eyes

Now tell me what you see
Nothing more to hide
Now tell me what you see
Everything I was
Now tell me what you see

Is nothing more because
It's who I used to be
open up your eyes
Remember way back when
I told you what you'll see
Well everything for you
Means so much more to me
Nothings what it seems
Now the time has come
And this all goes away
now I'm not on the run
Well everything for you
Now the time has come
Now I'm not numb
And I'm not numb
And I'm not numb
And I'm not numb
The more I fight the more I pull it back inside of me
The more I am the more I fucking need to try to be
Open up your eyes
Now tell me what you see
Nothing more to hide
Now tell me what you see
Everything I was
Now tell me what you see
Is nothing more because
Look around, look around
Nothing's the same, look around, never heals the pain
Look around, nothing ever heals the pain
