Here's another letter from me that you'll never see
Another selection from my personal collection
Dear you, I thought I told you not to, not to come around
That I can't see your face, that I can't hear the sound of your voice
It opens up the scars you left me when you left me blind
And I can't figure out what's in your mind

Are you trying to be cruel?
Are you killing me with kindness?
Am I being just a fool?
Or is it just this blindness?
We've all ben guilty of

Here's another letter from me that you'll never see
Another selection to add to your collection
Dear you: I know, I know you always need to be right
But there's no excuse for you being here tonite
You said you tried to opened up my eyes, I wasn't so inclined
Now I can't figure out what's in your mind

Are you trying to be cruel?
Are you killing me with kindness?
Am I being just a fool?
Or is it just this blindness?
We've all ben guilty of
In Love

Dear you: This is the last letter that you will see from me,
'Cause I've had quite enough of your personality
What's that you say, you say you want to be my friend today?
Well, I see be a friend and just stay away
I thought I lost you but there's nothing there to find
And I don't really care what's in your mind

Are you trying to be cruel?
Are you killing me with kindness?

Am I being just a fool?
Or is it just this blindness?
We've all ben guilty of
Are you trying to be cruel?
Are you killing me with kindness?
Am I being just a fool?
Or is it just this blindness?
We've all ben guilty of
In love
