The sun comes back to life
Our hearts are free and light
And this place smiles at me

The Trees stretch tall again
Through days that never end
And you when you smile for me
Do you know what you're doing to me

Come on baby dance with me
Put your arms on my shoulder let your hips go free
Come on show some sympathy
You're cruel if you know what you do to me.

Our minds lead us astray
Our bodies show the way
Your eyes are a beacon to me

So as we burn the day,
We dance the past away.
Your touch sends a shock through me
Do you know what you're doing to me

Come on baby dance with me.
Put your arms on my shoulder let your hips go free.
Come on show some sympathy,
You're cruel if you know what you do to me.

And you still smile for me
You know what you're doing to me.

Come on baby dance with me,
Put your arms on my shoulder let your hips go free
Come on show some sympathy
Your cruel if you know what you do to me

Come on show some sympathy,
Your cruel cause you know what you do to me.
