The night is late the day is young
And my head spins the final song
I'll do anythin she says
There's somethin new around the bend
I'm beginnin at the end
At the end's where I begin

Sense has gone we're on our way
Just another drink away
Stood behind the waterfall

At the end is where we meet
The dawn is runnin down the street
But they can never catch us now
There's somethin new around the bend
I'm beginnin at the end
At the end's where I begin

The night is late the day is young
My head spins the final song
I'll do anythin she says

You know it's been a while since I saw you

At the end is where we meet
The dawn is runnin down the street
But they can never catch us now

The night is late the day is young
My head spins the final song
I'll do anythin she says
There's somethin new around the bend
I'm beginnin at the end
At the end's where I begin
