in the closing minutes of pre-zone time with the world hanging over the edge as the messages flew down the red hot lines we did the body count in our heads and the true believers looked on and laughed as the landscape cracked and bled behind the barrier well I still don't know how he did it and I wonder how high it goes I only know that life goes on for the lucky ones here in the zone
and the true believers looked on and laughed
till the last cruise missile had flown
behind the barrier
and the minutemen stood as we knew they would
and the world went temporarily sane
and the radio said
"my god cover your heads
and get out of the boiling rain" get behind the barrier ya ya ya ya ya ya ya

and the true believers looked on and laughed
and life goes on for the lucky ones out here in the zone
behind the barrier
behind the barrier
