Static on the radio

Don't stay late

come home safe

you can never tell what waits for you

you knew the risks

you took the chance

now the ones you left behind are gone

but you can't believe it

where did all the people go

you're cryin' for an answer

static on the radio

all the lights are out so far below

a finger on the button

static on the radio

now you can't believe it

on the radio
