She doesn't know anything but what's in the picture
She can't feel because her pain's numbed senses
She believes in a holy God above
Goes every Sunday and sits in the back of the church

As I come before you, as I lay me down to sleep
I pray for the girl who's all alone
As I come before you, as I close my eyes
You are the comfort that holds her tonight
Holds her tonight, tonight

Well she's been here for several years
Grew up in the church and yet you still don't know her name
She don't need someone to feel sorry for her
All she needs is love, all she needs is love

As I come before you, as I lay me down to sleep
I pray for the girl who's all alone
As I come before you, as I close my eyes
You are the comfort that holds her tonight
Holds her tonight, yeah

Don't you know what I'm sayin'?
Don't you know what she feels?
Don't you know what she is?
Don't you know what I'm sayin'?
Don't you know what she feels?
Don't you know what she is?
Don't you know would you love?

Well I come before you, as I lay me down to sleep
I pray for the girl who's all alone
Well I come before you, as I close my eyes
You are the comfort that holds her tonight
Holds her tonight, yeah
Holds her tonight, tonight
