Every time you add it up are you left wanting?
Simple things you just can't seem to keep a hold on 'Cause everyone who said they'd come just left you waiting
All alone facing a door that never opened

Does the pain just get so bad it feels like curtains?
Well, hold on 'cause it's gonna feel good when it stops
hurting
If the blues have you convinced the end is certain Be strong 'cause it's gonna feel good when it stops
hurting
Gonna feel so good

It's gonna feel good
It's gonna feel good when it stops hurting

Has your life gone wrong so long that not much matters?
Windows shuttered, options closed, high hopes scattered
Do the nights stay dark and longer? Are they cold?
Summer chills then early frost as you get older

Does the pain just get so bad it feels like curtains?
Well, hold on 'cause it's gonna feel good when it stops
hurting
If the blues has you convinced the end is certain
Be strong 'cause it's gonna feel good when it stops
hurting
Gonna feel so good

It's gonna feel good
It's gonna feel good when it stops hurting

Every prayer you've prayed and wish you've made Is bound to come around one day but that's gonna be one day
