Time and again I see you walking down the street.

Over and over, just like before.

Once in a while you stop and say hello to me.

Just like you used to do before.

Time and again, it's like we were in love and then.

Over and over, nobody keeping score.

Once in a while, I think you notice when I smile

That love still lingers in my eyes.

It can't go wrong, it can't go wrong,

It lingers on, lingers on.

Day after day I turn it over in my mind,

Dream after dream it's hard to tell you how I find

Out of the blue I'm suddenly so close to you.

Despite the years that I've been gone.

Will you stop will you wait a minute please remember,

Can you stop, can you give me one minute to explain.

I will not cause a fuss, I will not rock the boat

Believe me darlin', ooh what is what was it's all the same
