As I walk here through the rain
I can't see the path I made
A shallow secret to my mind
I often wonder why I stay

Dreams I often can't explain
Feelings I cannot decide
And within in me hides this rage
An open door to what's inside

I can't disguise
I can't run away
I took the key
I can't be far away
Standing in fear
Grasping for air
Taking my soul
To a new world beyond

Finding a light in a world that's all dark
Looking for hope in the eyes of my soul
Tracing the moments in life that are real
Nothing to shatter this pain that I feel
Swallow the pill that will dance thru your mind
Feeling for moments you lose track of time
Nothing can help you but faith in yourself
Lose the illusion of life that you held

Fading pictures in my mind
Fallen angels follow me
Taken all my precious time
To find a reason I can be
Every darkness has a light
Every moment has an end
Sorry I can't be your saviour
