I never want to give my heart again
I never want to give my heart again

I hold my breath again
This time might be different
But you exaggerate
I guess it's only fate
This leads to all our fights
With you taking my rights
Will this ever work out?
I do, but you have doubts

I gave you a chance
To say yes
After giving my life
You said no

I never want to give my heart again
I never want to give my heart again

I really sympathize
With you pathetic life
I realized you're cruel
And that I was the fool

I gave you a chance
To say yes
After giving my life
You said no

And right at the end
You thought we were friends

I never want to give my heart again
I never want to give my heart again
