

Platinum Weird

"Crying At The Disco"

Visit "Crying At The Disco" on MotoLyrics.com

Everyone thinks I am who I am
But I think my dance has just begun
Another life another chance to burn
What I wouldn't do to feel the sun
There's so many hands that I can hold
But nobody here can take me home
I was crying at the disco
Everyone is dancing every one was dancing
I was crying at the disco
Everyone is dancing everyone was dancing
And baby it's cold when you know
That nobody knows
You're crying at the disco
The tears on my face are flowing down like rain
They've carry the stain from years gone by
The salt of my sins is resting on my lips
And There's nothing like the taste of life
There so many ways I could have gone
But looking back I should move on
I was crying at the disco
Everyone is dancing every one was dancing
I was crying at the disco
Everyone is dancing everyone was dancing
And baby it's cold when you know
That nobody knows
You're crying at the disco

Visit Platinum Weird page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.