You don't have to run and hide
?Cause I've been watching the signs
And dodging the lies

And every moment that goes by
Says what I already know
That you're running away from home

If you believe in love
Then you should believe in us
You don't have to deny it
Or at least we could try it for a while

If you believe in love
Then you should believe in us
?Cause if we don't have each other
Then we have nothing at all

Why has everything turned cold?
I feel the frost in the air
And in the length of your stare

And every effort that you make
Feels like you're hitting the brakes
And like you're making a big mistake

Oh, if you believe in love
Then you should believe in us
You don't have to deny it
Or at least we could try it for a while

If you believe in love
Then you should believe in us
?Cause if we don't have each other
Then we have nothing at all

And if I don't have you then
I just don't have anything
And if you don't have you then
I'll just be the lonely one

If you believe in love

If you believe in love

If you believe in love
If you believe in love
Then believe in us
Oh, then believe in us

If you believe in love
Then you should believe in us
?Cause if we don?t have each other
Then we have nothing at all

Then we have nothing at all
Then we have nothing at all
Oh, if you believe in love, believe in love
Believe in us, oh, believe in us
