What kind of world stays upside down?
What kind of river won't let me drown?
What kind of road just won't run out?
What kind of life have I found?

It's hard to face the future
When you're moving backwards

I got lonely eyes
And they've seen better days
I've been lost before
But not without a trace

What I'm looking for
Is somewhere in my past
And these lonely eyes
Will never take me back

What kind of moment goes on an on?
What kind of right is always wrong?
No need to hide now that you're gone?
Tell me, what kind of planet did you come from?

When I wake up tomorrow
Will I still have this sorrow?

I've got lonely eyes
And they've seen better days
I've been lost before
But not without a trace

What I'm looking for
Is somewhere in my past
And these lonely eyes
Will never take me back

Hey, got lonely eyes
Hey, got lonely eyes
And they've seen better days
They've seen better days
They've seen better days

Lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely eyes
Lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely eyes
Lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely eyes
Hey, hey, hey
