Forgotten thoughts of my so called yesterday

Imagination all carried me so far away

Reflections scare my shadows my world is shaking

You say my name but I think you're playing games

You said just overcome

Bury me under thoughts you created

You bury me with the pain that you hated

So don't mind when I take my time and I run blind

You said just overcome Is "make a difference" just a cliché for show?

'Cause disappointment hurts for the longest time

I know Does anybody out there still claim to be real?

Longing the feeling 'cause numb is close to gone

You said just overcome Bury me under thoughts you created

You bury me with the pain that you hated

So don't mind when I take my time and I run blind

You said just overcome if I sacrifice will you show a sign?

Only if I knew your nowhere is mine

Feeling you inside are you in disguise?

The truth I know it always lies

You said just overcome Philosophy that comes from

The deepest thoughts when you're numb

Bury me under thoughts you created

You bury me with the pain that you hated

So don't mind when I take my time and I run blind

You said just overcome You said just overcome
