Look at the world through my eyes
I won't be happy until everything dies

I wish you could see this life from the inside
But you'll go fucking blind
You've got it good looking in from the outside
You'll lose your fucking mind
Look at the world from my eyes
I won't be happy until everything dies x2
There is nothing in this world that comes without a price
Everything you think you know is a fucking lie
This isn't where your father passed you your life
My father gave me mine and then he fucking died

Look at the world through my eyes
I won't be happy until everything dies
Close your eyes and think about the times
The reality is your all going to die

This is how the world ends
Not with a bang but with a whimper x2
Let's just stand in silence and face the apocalypse
Not with a bang but with a whimper

I wish you could see this life from the inside
But you'll go fucking blind
You've got it good looking in from the outside
You'll lose your fucking mind
