

Accident Experiment, The "Scream To Breathe" take me over, cause you know it's been a while win me over with your devil killing smile and soak my bones in your overtones and tear down my walls till the darkness shows pull me under where the river sings my death light a candle with your holy cigarette come down with me in kerosine

and walk through the flames till it burns us clean i scream to breathe.
i scream to breathe.
so won't you place your hex on me drive the ship and ride with me let's run away to your galaxy where children bathe in delusion streams drain away the poison out of me wear the letter cloth and i will drink your shame like an ocean let me dream until i go insane until i go insane like a shot through your brain take a trip through your veins until i go insane
