What! I got a story about a girl I know, at a time in my life where I felt so low. So confused, and what little I knew, my endless nights at DÃ©jÃ Vu. I threw my 20's at her left and right, I asked, what is your name? She said Diana and welcome to my game, Welcome to my game. She grabbed my hand and took me back to the place where my life came under attack. Held me down, and did what she should But I stepped it up because I knew I could. I made Diana go OH! Now she's down, my fingers on her spine, she jerked me off, it felt so divine. My lips could not resist those luscious tits, with my dick rubbing on her clit. All of this was a fucking mistake, that I took too far when I raised the stakes, Lost all respect and faith in myself, to the band, I came for help. I came clean for the things that I've done, all this time I thought it was so much fucking fun. Drugs and booze, and the late night shows, in the end all I wanted was love and home. Dirty Diana, what the fuck did you do to me? Dirty Diana, now I can truly see, you're just a fucking slut. This concludes my fucked up past, it's something in my mind that will always last...
