Outside looking in, nave to my own in vain

Virtue is slipping and slipping

Believe what cannot see or speak

Subtle gestures from behind, hidden voices from below

Whats the chance this rhythm will end

Just give my soul some peace now breathe

Whats the chance this rhythm will end

Just give my soul some peace now breathe

Please save yourself, please save yourself

Damage has taken its toll, still Im weakening at the knees

Control is slipping and slipping

Cant help this release of need, must speak

Constant pounding fills my mind

Then the fear begins to bloom

Whats the chance this rhythm will end

Just give my soul some peace now breathe

Parasites eat my skin, bitter sins force me to binge

Take it from me no point to resist

To hell and back must be a twelve-step phase

I live this fantasy, it aint no goddamn game

Cause death is just a moment when dying ends

But Id rather die on my feet, than line in fear on knees

Run for help, jump from hell, beg, plead save yourself

Parasites eat my skin, bitter sins force me to binge

Run for help, jump from hell, run for help, jump from hell

Beg, plead save yourself, beg, plead save yourself
