"Winter Is Coming"

Winter is creeping up slowly
The chill in the air is noticeably there,
Will I make it back in time for tea.

A snowflake is glistening on my nose
It reminds me of the old days I suppose
Where we all sat around the burning fire...

You can't dissuade me anymore... oh no...
You can't dissuade me anymore... oh no...
Outside is calling my name, perhaps it will never Be the same, but winter is coming for me now!

Snow... on mountain tops... snow... snow!

You can't dissuade me anymore oh no
You can't dissuade me anymore oh no,
The winter is coming for me, and I'm gonna let it help me,
Because it's warmer out there than it ever was in here!

The wind is screaming to me, and if I go now I will be free,
I'll choose to leave the fire for the snow

You can't dissuade me anymore oh no
You can't dissuade me anymore oh no,

Winter is creeping up slowly
The chill in the air, is noticeable there,
Will I make it back
Will I make it back
Will I make it back in time for tea?
