Uhhh, uh yeah

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

C'mere baby let me talk to you

Uh, RJ let me tell you somethin

Better yet let me ask you somethin

What is it that you want?

Cause I know you say a lot of different things in a lot of different ways

But I ain't got no S on my chest and I ain't Superman

I'm not.. I'm just me, check it out

[Chorus: Aceyalone]

Baby I'm your star, but you lookin for a superhero

And Superman don't fly no more cause he ain't one with the people

Baby I'm your star, but you lookin for a superhero - and he ain't there

He ain't nowhere to be found cause he should be fightin evil

[Aceyalone]

I want to love you, cause that's my duty

It's not your booty, it's not your beauty

You're not just a cutie you make me whole

It's not the movies where they fake the role

I try to take control, for the sake of soul

But the only thing I get to do is scrape the bowl

When God made me he said break the mold

And put foot to the concrete to shake the road

I don't have powers like a Caped Crusader

But I do got powers like an Ace Invader

Back in the days he had so much flavor

He was so major to get you out of danger

Now you can't find him and he's just a stranger

And if you did he'd probably give you the finger

You hit channel zero on your channel changer

And your hero with a lifesaver threw you an anchor

[Chorus]

[Aceyalone]

Yeah baby love, and maybe love
A joke or a fairytale, one of the above
I really don't know what you thinkin of
I can't make a web from underneath my glove
I can't see through walls but I can see through you
You dress up the doll but that's all you do
You fell for him, he didn't fall for you
I'm just me, that's all I got to offer you
I don't save the day, I just pave the way
In the city of Gotham another day's a day
I know it pays to play, but I ain't playin
I ain't layin my coat down, know what I'm sayin?
You want lots of muscles and lots of green
But my hustle and bustle is my only thing
It ain't at all bad as my last song seems
You need a star in your life and not in your dreams

[Chorus x2]

[Aceyalone]

Breakdown

Yeah you know I could do it but Right now my cape is in the cleaners
But as soon as I get it out I'ma get at you
Yeah
Cause I can be everything you want, anything you need
Yeah baby, anything you need
I'm it, I'm the shit
Yeah, pure, unadulterated, beyond a shadow of a doubt, perfection
That's me
But you lookin for a superhero
Ain't one with the people
I'm perfectly flawed
