You

You make it cheap by keeping score
Once a blessing now a chore
Always pressing, moving forward
Never stopping to appreciate it

I know exactly where to go
Above the clouds there's always sun
I know exactly where to go
This game will not be won

You

You've given yourself something to prove
You built an invisible gauntlet
You'd better run
And we don't take this lightly
We don't take this lightly
We don't take this lightly
We don't take this lightly at all

I know exactly where to go
I know exactly where to go
This game will not be won, no no

Please don't forget
What it's like to stay in love
To feel it all through your shoes
To breathe electricity in the air
And to know that it's there because of you

What it's like when time slows down and stops
The light shines and sweat drops
This passion is so overwhelmingly rare
Don't let this treasure dissolve into the air

I know exactly where to go
I know exactly where to go
This game will not be won

Be won, be won

Be won, be won
