You've got move your feet to walk
Enter a bus, exit all you know
When the driver kicks you off
You just tuck and roll

You're the only one who knows
Don't ask us which way you should go
Grab the wheel and check the mirror
Watch the old you disappear

What they taught you is only in your head

Let go, it weighs you down
Like the waves hit the shore
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

We are in charge
Of what were heading for
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

You think your up against the wall
Brick by brick you can take it down
Go off the map, change it all
There's no such thing as a dead end

Everybody thinks they know best
Clear your head of bad advice
Take your cues from deep inside
Do something wrong, do something right

What they taught you is only in your head

Let go, it weighs you down
Like the waves hit the shore
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

We are in charge
Of what were heading for
Ten feet of snow

Its time for you to dig yourself out

It weighs you down

Let go, it weighs you down
Like the waves hit the shore
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

We are in charge
Of what were heading for
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

Let go, it weighs you down
Like the waves hit the shore
Ten feet of snow
Its time for you to dig yourself out

Let go
It weighs you down
Let go
Like the waves hit the shore
Let go
It weighs you down
Let go
