Look to the left
Through the smoke rising up by my side
Inhale for this life
Breathe out for this place and tonight

I start to relax
As I cross the train track
All alone
Alone
This place belongs to me
Like nights passed before
I need this time here on my own
To realise
Deep red and deep blue

Look to the right
Over fields and a setting sun sky
I'm aiming real high
And these incomplete thoughts aren't just mine
Look deep within
The place all things begin
For some truth
Truth
It's breathing in everything
A way to unite broken lines
Laid behind these wired eyes
Just rise
Deep red and deep blue

Look down from my bridge
At the ripples from the stones I've just thrown Soft waves collide
One line heals itself at least for a while

Will take me to you
Deep red and deep blue
Just rise
