I am your darkest oppression, the one that you hide
The theory of peaceful, the strangest disguise
And I know that you have the fight in ya my love

So take a look at this picture and open your eyes
The smallest resemblance of what you can't buy
And I know that you have the heart in ya my love

You'd better hope that the lovers collide
You'd better hope that the lovers collide
And hope the ache you keep quiet won't eat you alive
You'd better hope that the lovers collide

I am your deepest regret oh the one you hold dear
The farthest you've gone is still bringing you near
And I know that you've got the fight in ya my love

So grab a hold of this picture, remember it well
Cause one day it'll save you from heaven and hell
And I know that you've got the heart in ya my love

You'd better hope that the lovers collide
You'd better hope that the lovers collide
And hope the ache you keep quiet won't eat you alive
You'd better hope that the lovers collide
[x2]

So take it out, don't put it in, the simple times you hope begin
Like caviar and cigarettes could ever snub your regrets

You'd better hope that the lovers collide
You'd better hope that the lovers collide
And hope the ache you keep quiet won't eat you alive
You'd better hope that the lovers collide
[x2]
