Love

This is getting harder
And I can't seem to pick you out of the crowd
But you my dear
Have been discovered a liar (a liar)
And I'm afraid that this is building up for far too long (far too long)

And this is not the time or place for us to speak like this
And if I had the thought I'd never dream of it
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

In a different time or place the words could make more sense
In a perfect world, the future wouldn't make a dent
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

Even though it's the last time

Love

This is getting the best of me
And truth be told, you were the start of it all
Now you my dear, might end up lonely (lonely)
Before you go, there's something you should know
(You should know)

And this is not the time or place for us to speak like this

And if I had the thought I'd never dream of it
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

In a different time or place the words can make more
sense
The perfect world, the future wouldn't make a dent
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

Even though it's the last time.

This is not the time or place for us to speak like this
And if I had the thought I'd never dream of it
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

In a different time or place the words could make more
sense

The perfect world, the future wouldn't make a dent
So dry your hollow eyes and lets go down to the water

Please, let's not speak, don't breathe a word
Even though it's the last time

Please, let's not speak, don't breathe a word
Even though it's the last time
