finally contented soul
now did you lacerate
me long enough

while all enticing secrets were slowly whispering
'unearthly love'

the words I have the spells I know
were not enough to make you happy to make you smile again like roses your drugs in bloom in psychic beauty

my frantic heart

I thought I saw you gloating over my private inferno
you owe me answers

the words I have the spells I know

the nights and days - in wasteful void the glints of hope - as small defense the smiles I faked - the blood I shed my drifts of smoke - my 3 letter friends
