Have you ever seen the picture of Mary?
Have you ever seen the look in her eyes as she casts you away
What would you say?

Have you ever seen her face in the moon light?
Well it's the world, it's a dream, but it's always the same
Oh all for the pain

Cause there's a long line waiting to see you, baby,
When you're sitting at the top of the world
Your loving and your living is overrated
Now they're saying that you're more than a girl

Have you ever seen the picture of Mary?
Have you ever seen the ice in her smile as you ask her to stay?
Oh what would you say?

Have you ever seen her light up the dark night?
Well she's a long-legged Lucifer drawing the moths to her flame
Oh your love is a shame

Cause there's a long line waiting to see you, baby,
When you're sitting at the top of the world
Your loving and your living is overrated
Now they're saying that you're more than a girl

Cause there's a long line waiting to see you, baby,
When you're sitting at the top of the world
Your loving and your living is overrated
Now they're saying that you're more than a girl
